AGIX LINUX

A COMPANY 100% FOCUSED ON LINUX

Vulnerabilities are getting worse at an increasing rate and the industries response, while good, is simply not good enough. Ransomware, viruses and spyware are growing risks that your business can not ignore. Leverage the experience of AGIX to remain strong and stable in the face of such threats.

Business leaders are taking Information Security more seriously than ever before due to the increase in attacks on critical systems. AGIX technicians are trained with degrees, certification and years of experience to identify and mitigate these threats using best practices and industry leading solutions.

AGIX provides documentation platforms, monitoring systems, IT policies documents and vulnerability assessments.

We provides customers with freedom of choice, a wealth of resources, best practices and Open-Source solutions including those from Redhat and the community.

Your agreement with AGIX is on your terms with monthly plans, hourly rates and a service level agreement of your design.
